A CATALOGUE IS A MAP.

A description that requires beautiful pictures and photographs that have been taken properly, with the right light, the appropriate colours, at scrupulously-studied angles.

Yet as for every map, there is a territory behind it. With its roads, which are often paths; with its points of reference, with its specific features.

For a company, for an industrial manufacturing concern, the territory is the factory itself: its pace, its requirements, its machines and technology, its people.

People who meet up with other people - the designer with the prototyper, the marketing manager with the architect, the head of production with the worker – tracing paths, routes that lead from the idea, from the initial concept, to the end product.

Products such as tables, chairs, beds, armchairs, sofas, accessories... which are explored, before being brought to life, from every possible Products that are exhibited and admired across the globe. Because the territory of a factory does not keep to the confines of the production site, indeed it crosses over them, and shifts them continuously. Yet only if this merger of people, technology, and know-how leads to the creation of objects capable of making a stand as genuine icons.

These pages, which show the paths taken in 2017, represent a new maturity reached by Bonaldo, ranging from the Cop table by Roberto Paoli to the Origami table by Gino Carollo; from the Assemblage coffee tables by Alain Gilles to the Shade sideboard by Giuseppe Viganò; from the Bahia chair by Mauro Lipparini to the Liry chair by Bartoli Design; from the Colors sofa by Sergio Bicego, to the Blanket bed by Alessandro Busana and many more products still...

Bonaldo. 80 years of made in Italy excellence. With a keen look to the rest of the world, always.

UN CATALOGO È UNA MAPPA.

Una descrizione che ha bisogno di immagini e fotografie belle, ben fatte, con la giusta luce, con i colori appropriati, con le angolature ben studiate.

Ma come per ogni mappa, dietro c'è un territorio. Con le sue strade, che spesso sono sentieri; con i suoi punti di riferimento, con le sue specificità.

Per un'azienda, per una realtà industriale manifatturiera, il territorio è la fabbrica stessa: i suoi ritmi, le sue esigenze, le sue macchine e tecnologie, i suoi uomini.

Uomini che si incontrano con altri uomini – il designer con il prototipista, il marketing con l'architetto, il responsabile della produzione con l'operaio – e tracciano sentieri, percorsi che dall'idea, dalla visione portano poi al prodotto.

Prodotti come tavoli, sedute, letti, poltrone, divani, complementi d'arredo... esplorati, prima di essere realizzati, da ogni possibile punto di vista: la funzionalità, l'estetica, il colore, la forma, l'utilizzo.

Prodotti esposti, ammirati in tutto il mondo. Perché il territorio di una fabbrica non rispetta i confini del sito produttivo, anzi li travalica, li sposta continuamente. Ma solo se da quell'unione di uomini, tecnologie, saper fare nascono degli oggetti capaci di imporsi come vere e proprie icone.

In queste pagine, i percorsi del 2017, una vera e propria prova di maturità di Bonaldo, che spaziano dal Tavolo Cop di Roberto Paoli al tavolo Origami di Gino Carollo; dai tavolini Assemblage di Alain Gilles alla Madia Shade di Giuseppe Viganò; dalla sedia Bahia di Mauro Lipparini alla sedia Liry di Bartoli Design; dal divano Colors di Sergio Bicego, al letto Blanket di Alessandro Busana e tanti altri ancora...

Bonaldo. 80 anni di made in Italy. E uno sguardo sempre aperto sul mondo.
